To Whom it May Concern,

I, _____, am writing to inform you of my religious exemption from vaccinations in accordance with the Indiana State Constitution and the Civil Rights Act of 1964. Vaccinations are in conflict with my deeply held religious beliefs. My God has dictated that I have been wonderfully and fearfully made, pure, and whole. My body is the temple of God, where the Holy spirit dwells and must be honored as such. Thank you for your assistance in the matter.

Sincerely,

- Do you not know that your bodies are temples of the Holy Spirit, who is in you, whom you have received from God? You are not your own; you were bought at a price. Therefore honor God with your bodies (1 Corinthians 6:19-20).
- I praise you because I am fearfully and wonderfully made. (Psalm 139:14)
- The life of every creature is in its blood. That is why I have said to the people of Israel, 'You must never eat or drink blood, for the life of any creature is in its blood.' So whoever consumes blood will be cut off from the community. (Leviticus 17:14)
- Only be sure that you do not eat the blood, for the blood is the life, and you shall not eat the life with the flesh. (Deuteronomy 12:23)
- Who can bring what is pure from the impure? No one! (Job 14:4)

Public Law 88-352 (78 Stat. 241). The Civil Rights Act of 1964 prohibits discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, sex or national origin. Provisions of this civil rights act forbade discrimination on the basis of sex, as well as, race in hiring, promoting, and firing.

Text of Section 3: Freedom of Religious Opinions No law shall, in any case whatever, control the free exercise and enjoyment of religious opinions, or interfere with the rights of conscience. <http://iga.in.gov/legislative/laws/const/>
